

Thesis summary writing workshop

at 9:15-14:30 on October 21st, 2022, at Loftet, Campus Ultuna, SLU and via Zoom.

Welcome to a thesis summary writing workshop for PhD students! The workshop is jointly organized by The NJ-faculty Research Schools Focus on Soils and Water, Ecology – basics and applications, Organism Biology, Society and Landscape, Sustainable Systems for Food, Energy and Biomaterials, and is open for all PhD students at SLU.

The aim of the workshop is to give insights and inspiration on how to write a thesis summary. The topics covered are legal issues concerning the thesis summary writing process, writing inspiration, and discussions on “best practices” for writing a thesis summary.

Application and information

Register by email to philip.jacobson@slu.se on October 6th at the latest. Please state your department and if you wish to attend at Ultuna or via video (Zoom). If you wish to attend at Ultuna, please state allergies or food preferences (vegetarian lunch and fika will be included). More information and schedule can be found on the research school's homepage.

For further questions, please contact the workshop organizer:

Philip Jacobson

Dept. of Aquatic Resources

+46(0)10-478 42 78

philip.jacobson@slu.se

The footer features a composite background image. On the left, there's a close-up of green soil with a grid pattern. On the right, there's a circular inset showing a small green seedling growing out of soil, set against a backdrop of a blue globe with lightning bolts.

Read more: www.slu.se/FoSW