PROJECT SUMMARY

The PhD's Forum is an innovative setting for Landscape PhD students to exchange experiences, working methods and raise awareness and openness towards the multi-disciplinary wealth and diverse approaches to research characterizing the landscape field.

During the year we are planning a number of workshops, field trips and seminars which all will focus on the present and future challenges for creating sustainable urban environments.

Throughout our work, The Forum strives towards an inclusive academic conversation on the issues of landscape as PhD research subject. Through trust, we provide each other a safe space and both a professional and personal collegial support.

Forum start up meeting 2019.
