

FEDERAL FORESTRY AGENCY
RUSSIAN FEDERATION

Russian approaches to overcome challenges on the way to forest bioeconomy

VNIILM
ANDREI IUGOV

Present-day aims for strengthen forestry input into bioeconomy:

- To increase efficiency of forest restoration, efficiency of use, protection, protection and reproduction of forests
- To overcome conflict of interests (environment, economics, society). To meet long term social demand in forest-based products and services while maintaining productive and environmental functions of forests
- To research in & make account of climate change.
- To ensure funding for transition to bioeconomy through investments into forest sector
- To overcome isolation of forest sector on the way to green economy, bioeconomy

Solutions

- Political recognition & support
- Research & communication
- Innovative solutions
(Priority projects, Intensive SFM)
- Capacity-Building
- Public-Private partnerships
- Cross-Sectoral
- International cooperation

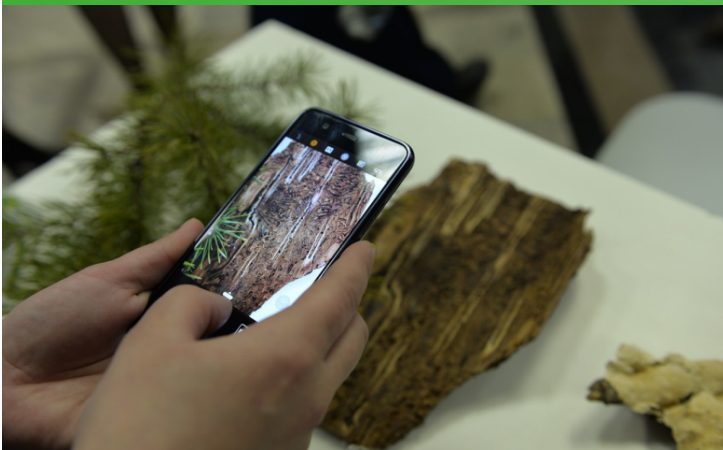

Political recognition & Support

- 'Ecology' the National Project
- 'Maintenance of Forest' the Federal Project
- Bio-2030 programme
- State programme on Energy efficiency
- Transport strategy of Russia

Research & Communication

- National Project on Science
- Research backup to political decisions
- Presidential grants
- Social campaigns to raise awareness

Innovative solutions

- Priority Projects (tax exemption, duty free trade)
- Intensive SFM
- Wood building
- Investments

Capacity-Building

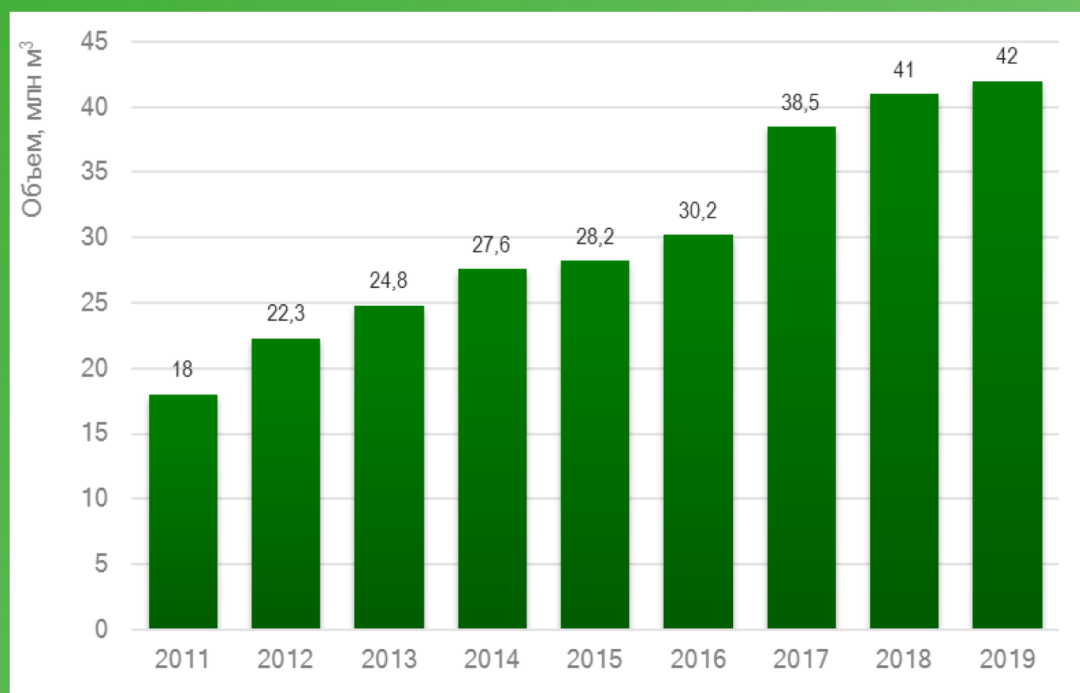

- Forestry Schools
- Junior Forest Contests
- Continuous education for forestry specialists
- Workshops and trainings
- Synergetic approach educational centre + industry + science + policy-making
- Career-long learning (obligatory for employees)

Public-Private initiatives

- Companies aim to be carbon-zero and choose forest-related compensations to emissions.
- Priority Projects and long-term lease

Динамика заготовки древесины в рамках приоритетных инвестиционных проектов

Cross-Sectoral

- Climate (Paris Agreement)
 - Forests for SDG (Multi-Agency WG under the President of Russian Federation)
- We work hard to keep forests high on the agenda - alongside with colleagues from Russian Ministries on Water, Mining, Economy, Industry, Health, Science, etc.

International Cooperation

This is great solution to overcome challenges.

This is why we are here.

Thank you!

ANDREI IUGOV
ayugov@ya.ru

