

Available projects in forest pathology

- 1) Sentinel trees as an early warning against new pest and pathogens: a case study with Chinese fir
- 2) How low can you go? Testing a portable molecular detection tool for trace amounts of insect DNA

Contact

Michelle Cleary michelle.cleary@slu.se

Other information

Both projects would be like a greenhouse study with trees + laboratory work. Students can get training in classical and/or molecular diagnostic techniques